DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-9, drawn to method, classified in class 117, subclass 54.
 - II. Claims 10-20, drawn to apparatus, classified in class 118, subclass 400.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be used to perform LPE with now cooling flow to the interior of the solvent.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Michael O'Neill's representative, Damond Vatnay on 3/14/2003 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-9. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 10-20 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-3, 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Masatomo et al. (JP-43-11-189498).

Masatomo et al. discloses a method of Liquid phase crystal growth. A substrate of Si on sapphire was used to grow a III-V semiconductor based on Ga. The growth can include an additional metal such as Al or In (the solute) dissolved in the Ga (solvent). A gas containing nitrogen is blown up through the solvent (see Fig. 8) to react at the substrate. The gas is not preheated and thus cools the solvent in the central interior portion of the solvent as shown in Fig. 8. Fig. 1 shows that the introduction can be from a tube immersed in the crucible. Fig. 8 shows that the gas medium can flow through a hole in the crucible.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Masatomo et al. as described above .

Masatomo et al. does not explicitly described the intended use limitation on the apparatus used in the method.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the present invention to flow the gas medium through a hole formed in a jig for holding the substrate because such an apparatus limitation does not affect the process in a manipulative sense (gas would have still been applied to the growth surface). Motivation for such an apparatus modification would be reducing entrance points for contamination into the reaction chamber.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 7-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

11. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The growth of Si layers by LPE as described in claim 1 was not described in the prior art.
